Dear Professor Lederberg:

Now that our article on Young Scientists is off to the printer I have time to thank you for cooperating so generously with us in its preparation. I fear that you may be surprised, on the one hand, that we used so little of the information we gathered, and, on the other hand, relieved.

I suppose it is only fair to warn you, also, that one of the pictures I took of you is included in a portfolio of ten university scientists. You will, of course, receive a copy of the June issue in which the article and portfolio will appear.

It was a great pleasure to talk to you and I hope I shall see you again.

Sincerely,
